

External DAQ systems (LAN, USB)

Especially to mention as an alternative for measuring cards integrated in a PC are external data acquisition systems from bmc. In this case, sampled data are transmitted to the PC via the USB interface or the LAN network - perfect for mobile applications!